

KATHIR VELAN

FULL STACK WEB DEVELOPER

I am Kathirvelan, a first-year Mechanical Engineering student at Rajalakshmi Institute of Technology with a passion for full-stack web development. I have a strong foundation in HTML, CSS, JavaScript, and Java, and I continuously enhance my skills through learning platforms and projects. I have completed the 30 Days HackerRank Challenge in Java and courses on Git, GitHub, and professional communication. Currently, I am developing an app called 'Voter ID' while refining my resume and professional presence. I am eager to leverage my technical and problem-solving skills to build a successful career in technology.
